The Military Benefit Association will sponsor the 2015 Sea-Air-Space Exposition at the National Harbor's Gaylord Convention Center from April 13, 2015 to April 15, 2015.

"The Military Benefit Association is excited to support the Navy League and enjoy an exhibitor opportunity at this fabulous event. Having a presence at the largest maritime exposition in the United States continues to help us grow our brand and support our service members," said Roy L. Gibson, MBA President. "MBA was created to support our active military, veterans, their dependents and our great corps of federal employees. Many of the heroes we support will visit this exposition and we are proud to be there to meet them and show how we support our fellow service members!"

The Military Benefit Association will greet exhibition attendees at booth 2654. Visitors will have an opportunity to accept a free raffle ticket. MBA will be raffling off an autographed 16 x 20 framed and matted print of Roger Staubach in his Navy Academy uniform.

Founded in 1956, by a group of military members who wanted to make sure that enlisted troops had the same life insurance options as commissioned and warrant officers, this new, non-profit association, Armed Forces Enlisted Personnel Benefit Association, sponsored term life insurance programs that enlisted members could easily afford.

Through sustained success the company changed their name to Military Benefit Association (<http://www.militarybenefit.org/>) in 1963 and grew to support all military personnel, veterans, federal government employees and member dependents. At MBA, there is one clear mission: to provide quality, affordable life insurance and other benefits for the military community.

"Having a presence at this exposition makes sense for any business but it is close to home for the MBA family. Supporting military-centric or government-centric events is important to our company values," said Gibson. "We are excited to be at Sea-Air-Space and hope to meet as many attendees as possible to tell them about our great non-profit association. MBA is set up to take care of all Sailors, their shipmates and the great government service professionals that are an integral part of our military team."

The 50th Sea-Air-Space Exposition begins on Mon., April 13 at 9 a.m. and runs through Wed., April 15 at 3:30 p.m. MBA will be at booth 2654 throughout and will be pleased to share our company's products with all eligible attendees.
